GATEWAY ARCH AND THE OLD CATHEDRAL
St. Louis

The Old Cathedral, completed in 1834; of Greek Revival style, is framed by our tallest National Monument; 630 ft. high Gateway Arch. The Arch, built from prize winning design by the late Eero Saarinen, is in the form of an inverted catenary curve, graceful from all points of view, harmonizing with classic and contemporary Architecture of St. Louis' historic riverfront.

We arrived in St. Louis this P.M. and are getting rested. Will get to Kansas City about noon tomorrow I guess. It is very hot outside but our room is cool and lovely. The car air-conditioner is a blessing.
